in the employ of the C. F. Jones Company, left last Thursday for Chicago, a popular young man and his friends wish for him a successful career in the windy city.

J. F. Clardy, the efficient clerk of the board of County Commissioners, has been taken to the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore to undergo an operation. He has been ill for some time, and his friends wish for him a speedy restoration to health and strength.

Three bales of new cotton, the first of the season, were marketed here yesterday morning. Two were bought by J. T. Pearson, bringing 15 cts per pound. W. L. Band, of Corner Township, had the distinction of selling first. A. B. Wharton, also of the Corner, and Bud Pruitt each sold a bale during the morning.

The congregation of Generosities A.
R. P. Church, in Corner Township, will celebrate the centennial of the first pastorate on next Saturday and Sunday. The first pastor of the Church was Robert Erwin, who came over from Ireland in 1803. Rev. R. F. Bradley, of Troy, and Dr. W. L. Pressley, of Due West, former pastors, will participate in the exercises.

The paving material is being rapidly placed on the streets. Work has already commenced on South Main at and on the south side of the public square. The surface of the street is being torn up preparatory to laying the brick. It is a matter of much regret that the school of Greenville has been closed down, but all of them will some day have to make way for the march of progress.

been received by Capt. McCull for the use of the Anderson Rifles. These are the new rifles supplied by the War Department for the State Militia. The used in the weekly drill Friday evening.

At a special meeting of the County Commissioners on Monday a number of citizens of the Fork appeared before them and urged the building of the new steel bridge over Seneca River.
The commissioners have the matter under consideration, and will make a personal inspection of the site of the proposed bridge before rendering a final decision.

Fred G. Tribble, book-keeper for the Brock Hardware Company, and Miss Jennie Cochran, who has been with The Horn-Bass Company, were married last Sunday night at the home of the bride's aunt on Greenville street.
The wedding was a quiet one, being witnessed by only a few immediate friends. Rev. H. R. Sturgeson performed the ceremony. These young people are quite popular and are receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends.

With impressive ceremonies the first spade of earth was turned on Thursday last for the foundation of the Williamston Female College of Greenwood. It will be remembered that Greenwood has secured this splendid institution, which for twenty years has been located at Williamston. Dr.
Lander will, of course, continue its progressive head. The main building to be erected at Greenwood will be 240 feet long and four stories high. It will contain one of the largest auditoriums in the State, and will have every modern convenience.

Col. J. N. Brown, of Anderson, attended the reunion which occurred at Woodruff a few days since, of one of the companies of his Regiment, the gallant Fourteenth. On his return to his home he spent a few hours in our city, where he met several of his command, whom he is always delighted to meet, and they are equally delighted to meet their valorous old commander.
Colonel Brown went to the war from this place in command of a company he raised, subsequently rising to the colonely of the 14th Regiment.—Laurens Herald.

Prof. Frank T. Dargan, who has been a member of the faculty of Clemson College, met with a painful accident at Greenwood on Friday by which he lost his right foot. In attempting to get on the train as was moving off, he lost his footing and fell. His leg was caught under the wheels and badly crushed. Physicians were called in, and it was found necessary to ampu-tate it just above the ankle. In a few days expected to go to Cornell University, where he has just been elected an assistant professor of physics. Prof.
Dargan has many friends here who will regret to learn of his misfortune.

Miss Eleanor Cochran, formerly a popular teacher in the city schools, is now pursuing a special course of study in the University of Chicago. The work of the summer term is being brought to a close, and Miss Cochran's friends will be gratified to learn of the high stand she has taken in her studies.
The university paper gives an interesting account of the session of a mock mayor and council selected by the student body to discuss municipal affairs, and speaks of Miss Cochran's effort as the feature of the meeting. She will remain at the university through the winter term.

The residence of Capt. E. G. Evans, at the corner of McDuffie and Society streets, was partially destroyed by fire last Thursday morning. The fire probably started from a defective stove flue. When discovered, the flaming burning from the roof of the kitchen and rapidly spread to the roof of the main building. The firemen reached the scene promptly, but were hindered at first in their work by the low water pressure. Capt. Evans had $1,300 insurance on the building and $400 on the furniture. But for the efficient work of the fire department the entire building would have been consumed.

L. P. Smith's excursion to Augusta last Thursday carried a large crowd from here and from points along the line. The excursionists had an enjoyable outing in spite of the oppressive heat. The return trip developed some trouble among the negro contingent on the train. William Gray drank too much mean liquor and began to fire his pistol in an indiscriminate manner.
Toonie Williams, a negro woman, received two shots, one in the side and one in the face. The wounds proved not to be serious. The shooting took place below Calhoun Falls. Chief Phillips, who arrested the negro, turned him over to the Abbeville County authorities for trial.

The surviving pupils of the old Holly Springs and Sourwood Schools met in pleasant reunion at Sunset Forest, the attractive summer home of J. J.
Fretwell, on last Thursday. These "old field" schools had an established reputation in the days before the war, but when that great struggle came on, their doors were closed forever. The occasion was made the more enjoyable by the presence of two former teachers, P. S. Mahaffey, of the Holly Spring school and J. William Eskew, who wielded the birch at Sourwood. Interesting talks of a reminiscence nature were made by Hon. B. F. Crayton and Rev. E. Z. Brown. The day was one of tender memories, bringing back from the long past the familiar scenes of childhood.

The city graded schools will begin the next year's work on Monday, September 14th. Grammar school No. 3, now under process of construction, will not be open until the 15th of October.
It is a matter of regret that this school could not be ready for admission of pupils at the beginning of the session.
Anderson has always had a fine system of public schools, ranking with the very best in the country. When the new building is completed, the schools will have a splendid equipment and ample accommodations for the constantly increasing number of pupils.
The teaching corps has been enlarged, and under the present efficient management the schools should enjoy an unusually prosperous year.
